Amazing Faith - How to Get Anything With God

Item#1037

It is okay to desire things in life – God designed us to dream. Jesus encouraged people to clearly express their desires to Him, and when they did, He stepped into the space their faith created and worked miracles.

In this series, Pastor Craig shares how desire is the first step to seeing God move, and when faith is added, the God Factor begins and anything is possible.

went on to ask God to "Enlarge my territory"! I like this way of thinking. I think we err far more in not asking and believing God to do enough than we do in asking Him to do too much!

Jesus was thrilled when someone came to Him who had that risky kind of faith. The kind that is willing to believe Him to do the out-of-the ordinary things. That is why when Peter asked if he could step out onto the water, Jesus immediately said "COME".

Perhaps that is what He is saying to us right now. Time to step out.

Time to believe Him for things that are above and beyond. Time to trust that if we seek Him and follow Him as accurately as we can, He will make sure we end up in the right place, no matter how many mistakes we make in the attempt.

I like what Isaiah 30:21 says: "Your ears shall hear a voice behind you saying, 'This is the way, walk in it,' whenever you turn to the right or turn to the left."

Let's believe it! Let's walk in it! The greater One who lives within us will cause us to triumph, He promised!

The Times of Refreshing

Volume 5, Issue 4 - March and April 2006

From Pastor Craig's Desk...

Dear Partners,

As I was praying this morning this scripture came up in my heart for those of you who partner with us.

2 Corinthians 2:14: "Now thanks be unto God who always causes us to triumph in Christ and through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place."

There is such a strong sense in my heart about the things the Lord is encouraging His people to step into. I felt earlier that this year was to be a year of stepping out and trusting God to do more than we have seen before. I remember two years ago, Bishop Bill Hamon said "Raise your expectations. It is time to expect miracles in us and through us."

This quote was something Anne and I put up on our mirror so that each morning when we were getting ready for the day, we would have it there before our eyes to remind us.

I believe this year is the time we need to "go for it." I am hearing reports from different places of God's people having great favour with governments and people in positions of authority, and that the church is being viewed favourably in the eyes of the world like never before.

Obviously, there is still a battle, and this won't change as long as we are on the earth, but there is something going on that shows the hand of God moving in areas that is surprising to all of us.

Now is the time to think and dream and ask and do big things for God.

We are not limited by Him; rather, He is limited by us. As I talk to people all over this nation, I am hearing of things coming up that seem to be opportunities for advancement, not just spiritual, but also natural.

Business opportunities, career changes, moving to places that will work for the betterment of families and the Kingdom of God. Many are thinking of starting something new, but are not sure if they should go for it or not. I feel that we, in the Body of Christ, are in a time when He is encouraging us to step out and believe Him for wonderful things in a greater measure.

Obviously, each of us has to pray and seek God concerning our own lives, families, and the decisions we make, but I believe it is safe to say that the season we are moving into, nationally and globally, is one of the signs, wonders, and miracles that are spoken of in the end times. There is a "fertility" in the Spirit that has never been as strong or as accessible as it is now. This is the spiritual posture I have chosen to adopt as we begin to move ahead in 2006.

As I minister to congregations around the nation, one of the questions I have found the Lord asking them is "What do you see?"

To a large extent God seems to be limited by what we are able to "see". By that I mean what do you see Him doing in your life, your business, your church, and your country in the next three, five, or ten years? We walk by faith, not by sight, so what He has been prodding me on is what is my vision limited to and why? Where are the lines I have drawn in the sand, and why did I choose to put them there?

Jesus commonly asked people two questions: "What do you want me to do?" and "Do you believe I am able to do this?" I have been pondering those two things myself. It has been challenging for me to realize much of what I want Him to do is so small.

I remember when the Jabez prayer book came out. It started out with the bold line "Bless me indeed" and Intercessor Extraordinaire...

One of the goals of the Times of Refreshing ministry is to bring hope and breakthrough to individuals, churches, cities, and the nations. By responding to prayer requests, TOR's intercessors are aiding in this mandate by bringing comfort and counsel to people around the world on a weekly basis.

"I know what the answers to people's requests are because the Holy Spirit puts on my heart things to pray regarding their needs," says Angela Fink, one of TOR's three primary interceders. "God has filled me up so much with His love that I'm able to go out and give it back through prayer and helping people."

A pray-er for years, Fink underwent her own dark night of the soul several years ago when her only child was born with autism. Turning to God and "giving up everything secular" was the only antidote for the depression that threatened to destroy her.

"I can't describe what He's done for me in those painful, painful times," she says. "As I sought Him with my whole heart, He fulfilled my needs and is restoring more and more. My mind was on the Word, worship, and prayer. It's all about getting that mind renewed with God's Word because then it will bring life. And then declaring it, speaking it, praying it."

Fink brings this same fervency to praying for others. While she says it can sometimes get "heavy" dealing with people's problems in areas of finance, family, and health, she has learned she can't take it on her own shoulders but keeps giving it over to God. And, she has learned, adversity has its benefits.

"The Word says consider it pure joy when you go through trials and tribulations. It kills the flesh. It develops character, and if you pursue God in that time and don't turn from God, He will turn it around."

Testimonies...

"Thank you for your faithfulness and for hearkening to voice of the Lord. We are becoming more intimate with the Lord as He reveals Himself to us. The teachings you share are one of His ways of teaching us. We have experienced an awesome working of the Lord this past week and this testifies of His love to us."

Debbie – Ontario

"We are on the Mississippi Gulf coastline in the middle of the aftermath of Katrina five months later. It is hard and dark down here. We have been hitting some major spiritual yuck and today after three weeks of it are very tired ... it was finally, 'Okay, Lord, what do you want from us 'cause we don't know what else to do for You.' He reminded us of a CD series we got at the Raising the Bar conference in Phoenix, AZ, 'Experiencing Intimacy with God.' Thank you, thank you, thank you Craig, for putting into words what we all need to hear, know, and do ... we listened to all five CD's, took notes, and will listen to it again.

"We also reset our alarm clock and now will wait for Him as we are tired of thrashing around at anything and everything. This morning we felt like someone tossed into a deep lake that did not know how to swim and this afternoon we are at least starting to dog paddle ... are you making a difference? In our lives and new ministry, Yes! Today I think you changed our ministry, and may the Lord return to you a thousand-fold what you have sown into ours! Still in His Service,"

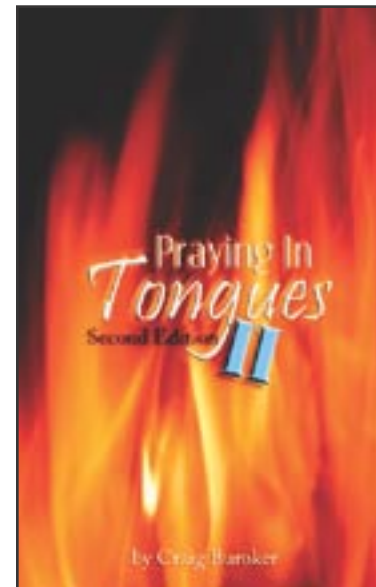

Curt, Toni and Willie – British Columbia

"Thank-you so much for your prayers and encouragement. It is so good to be a part of the greater church to establish His Kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven.

"Please continue to pray God will shine His light on our ways and bring salvation, health and healing to Eden Valley, Bearspaw Nation, so that it 'will be a joy, praise, and honor before all nations on earth that hear of all the good things I do for it; and they will be in awe and will tremble at the abundant prosperity and peace I provide for it.' Jer 33:6-9. God Bless You."
